SUMMARY

Senior Team Leader with a rich background in various programming languages and frameworks, particularly proficient in PHP using Laravel, Python, and robust MySQL database development. Passionate about enhancing web applications through dynamic backend solutions, I also excel in data management by utilising NoSQL technologies like MongoDB. Integrating front-end skills with JQuery equips me to produce user-oriented platforms. My solid experience with AWS offers well-rounded cloud computing expertise that fosters reliable application hosting and management. Effective leadership and problem-solving capabilities drive successful collaborations across technical teams while promoting innovation and operational efficiency.
